

10 Year Summary
1994	1995	1996	1997	1998	1999	2000	2001	2002	2003
								23.6	20.5

	Q1	Q2	Q3	Q4	Average
2003	20.8	21.6	20.9	18.8	20.5
2004	20.7				20.7

The average length of stay has stayed within the range of 20 to 24 days for the last decade. Since thousands of inmates are released early each month due to lack of space, the average length of stay is probably as much a function of jail capacity as anything else. As a result, the average length of stay will probably decrease as an increasingly higher proportion of the beds are used for non-sentenced inmates.